LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to the 2021-22 edition of the Kitchen Cabinet Manufacturer's Association Directory of Members—an annual publication featuring our valued cabinet manufacturers and suppliers to the industry.

This past year brought many challenges and opportunities to KCMA and its membership. I would like to thank Bill Allen, President & CEO of Showplace Cabinetry, and Immediate Past President of KCMA, for his leadership and vision in guiding us through circumstances the likes of which we have never seen before. And it will be a tall order for me to further the goal of growth and industry success. But it is a challenge that I am honored and humbled to be asked to achieve.

This has already been a dynamic year for KCMA, and I have had the pleasure of working alongside Betsy Natz, KCMA CEO, and her team, to chart a course for the Association and the industry to continue our growth and prosperity. These efforts include the fight for a level playing field by assisting the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Department of Commerce with enforcing tariff orders put into place April 2020, recruiting new members, and developing more resources and value for our members. These efforts include enhancement and promotion of the certification programs, engaging webinars and conferences, workforce development resources, and the launch of a more intuitive and informative website for manufacturers, suppliers, and consumers.

I also thank you, our members. KCMA is driven by your loyalty, dedication, participation, and generous support. It is together that we will achieve our goals.

So, on behalf of the KCMA leadership, I am pleased to present the 2021-2022 Membership Directory—your guide to the KCMA community. Here's to another successful year for the Kitchen Cabinet Manufacturers Association and the cabinet industry.

Best Regards,

Todd Sabine
President
American Woodmark Corporation

KITCHEN CABINET
MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION®

NOTE FROM THE CEO

Dear Members,

This past year saw global, once-in-a-lifetime challenges, and yet, our industry showed the fortitude and resilience not only to survive but also to reach new heights. Part of that growth is attributable to the vast reduction in imports from China due to the successful completion of one of the largest trade cases ever filed against one country in U.S. history. The ongoing fight to maintain the rewards of that victory through policing efforts to circumvent the orders set by the Department of Commerce is vital to our industry's success. This multi-tiered fight is part of KCMA's overall commitment to serving our members and the industry.

We all know the challenges that the past year presented. And I am proud of how our industry adapted and thrived. KCMA's home office stayed open and fully staffed during this difficult year to best serve our cause, interact with members, and ensure the continuity of our programs. These efforts included working to support our members in states that required plant shutdowns during the pandemic, "what to expect" webinars on supply chain issues, compiling workforce development resources, enhancing our website content and member newsletter, and creating a grassroots database mapping out our members' plant locations in Congressional districts. And it was such a wonderful experience to be able to gather this past spring in Ponte Vedra for our Spring Conference—one of the first in-person conferences of the year!

This past year KCMA has focused on increasing the membership and participation in our association and certification programs, working closely with our member committees to develop programs and webinars relevant to the success of your business. And we greatly appreciate the valuable input from all our members as we enhance our Certification Programs and update the ANSI KCMA A161.1 standard for certification, conferences, resources, and launch our more robust and user-friendly website. KCMA also worked very closely with our Associate Members to create new and exciting opportunities to engage with—and offer solutions to—our community. KCMA is grateful for their support through sponsorships and advertising which has been vital to our growth.

Working with our outside counsel and lobbyists, KCMA represented the kitchen cabinet industry while working with the EPA on the formaldehyde rule and new guidance and standards including COVID-19. And of course, we continued our efforts on Capitol Hill and the Executive Branch lobbying for the protection and continued growth of the cabinet manufacturing industry.

None of these efforts would have been possible without a committed KCMA staff, engaged Board of Directors, dedicated committee members, and all of you!

I invite you to reach out to me directly via email (bnatz@kcma.org) or by phone (703-264-1690) with any ideas or suggestions you have. We look forward to another great year with KCMA. Thank you for your support and your participation.

Best Regards,

Betsy Natz
Chief Executive Officer

KITCHEN CABINET
MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION®

KITCHEN CABINET
MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

The Kitchen Cabinet Manufacturers Association was founded in 1955 as the National Institute of Wood Kitchen Cabinets at a time when the future of factory-built wood cabinets faced a stiff challenge from an expanding steel cabinet market. The association changed its name to the National Kitchen Cabinet Association in 1961 to respond to trends and diversity in the use of materials for cabinet construction. In the spring of 1990, association members overwhelmingly voted to change the association's name again to the Kitchen Cabinet Manufacturers Association to more clearly reflect the nature of the association, its purpose, members and services.

Today, with more than 300 members representing 75% of the cabinet manufacturing industry, KCMA is the largest national trade association that exclusively represents cabinet manufacturers and suppliers to the industry. KCMA establishes and promotes standards for the kitchen cabinet industry; defends and advocates in support of the industry; and arms our members with valuable tools necessary to promote and grow their businesses.

The KCMA By-laws were amended in 2010 to require that Active members conduct 51% or more of their value-added processes in North America. Suppliers to the industry are welcome to join the association as Associate Members. Both Active and Associate Members are involved in association activities.

UP AND OUT OF THE WAY

After spending years in the homes of kitchen users and watching them constantly bump their heads on open wall cabinet doors, while emptying the dishwasher or dodging one cabinet door to get into a neighboring cabinet, Blum introduced our AVENTOS lift systems. Combining endless functionality with modern style, AVENTOS gets doors up and out of the way, providing full access to storage goods. And, the door stays where you want, so it's always within easy reach.

STANDARDS AND CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

ANSI/KCMA A161.1

The KCMA A161.1 Quality Certification Program has been in operation since 1965 when KCMA developed and adopted the first national construction and performance standards for kitchen and vanity cabinets. The KCMA A161.1 Quality Certification Program is administered by a Director of Certification under the direction of the KCMA Standards and Certification Committee.

This program of voluntary self-regulation has made the KCMA Certified Seal a nationally recognized and respected symbol that assures the high quality, durability and consistent performance of the cabinets bearing it. The right to display this seal must be earned in the testing laboratory by proving compliance with the American National Standard Institute ANSI/KCMA A161.1-2017 standards. Manufacturers whose products pass the tests are licensed by KCMA to use the KCMA Certification Seal and to indicate that their cabinets meet or exceed the standards. Currently, more than 130 companies participate in the program.

KCMA certification requires rigorous, multiple tests administered by qualified and experienced independent laboratories. To meet the KCMA standards, the cabinets must meet general construction requirements, pass five structural tests, door operation tests, drawer tests and five finish tests. In addition, KCMA monitors compliance with the ANSI/KCMA A161.1-2017 standard by conducting annual in-plant selection and testing of certified cabinets. KCMA responds to complaints on cabinets displaying the seal and works to ensure adequate quality control.

Cabinet manufacturers do not have to be a member of the KCMA to have their cabinets tested and certified.

“To a prospective customer, the presence of the KCMA seal is validation of a company’s commitment to manufacturing its products at the highest possible level.” – Marsh Furniture Company

ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM

ALL PRODUCTS IMPACT THE ENVIRONMENT FOR ESP PROGRAM CRITERIA. VISIT KCMA.ORG

The KCMA Environmental Stewardship Program (ESP) encourages industry policies and practices that benefit the environment and the wellbeing of society. The program provides a tangible way for cabinet manufacturers to show their commitment to sound environmental practices. Over 120 plants and brands (listed on the KCMA website, www.kcma.org and recognized in the pages of this Directory) meet the requirements for ESP certification. Participants in the KCMA Environmental Stewardship Program recycled more than 16.4 million pounds of paper/cardboard that equates to 140,000 trees in 2017 alone.

ESP goes beyond other environmental programs by taking a holistic approach to certification, holding the industry to higher standards and requiring third-party verification for many of its criteria. After meeting the certification requirements in areas such as air quality & pollution prevention, resource sustainability and environmental stewardship, companies are awarded the ESP seal to display on their products.

The ESP program is administered by the KCMA Director of Certification under the direction of the KCMA Environmental Stewardship Program Committee. The Committee reviews the criteria for certification every year to ensure that ESP maintains its credibility by keeping up with the latest technology, changes in industry standards and new federal/state regulations.

The KCMA 01-20 ESP certification requirements are based on currently obtainable materials and practices. The requirements are reviewed every year and will be amended as new, improved materials become available. The specifications have been revised five times since the program’s inception in 2006.

Since March 2009, the ESP program has been audited and has earned favorable reviews from 3rd party accredited organizations. The ESP program has earned further credibility by its reference in the ANSI-approved ICC 700 National Green Building Standard, the benchmark in green residential construction.

“I’ve heard directly from consumers that our ESP certification played a part in their decision to buy our products.”
– Canyon Creek Cabinet Company

KCMA 2021 MILESTONES

KITCHEN CABINET MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

KCMA can be counted on to maintain the standards of the industry on behalf of our members with certifications, best practices and much more. We're very proud of everything we've accomplished this year. We strive to advance the cabinet manufacturing industry in many different areas including, helping with strategic planning, advocating on Capitol Hill, providing up to date information and so much more.

Advocacy:

Schagrin Associates, on behalf of KCMA, has been engaged throughout the year with Congress, the U.S. Department of Commerce, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection department on:

- Imposition of antidumping and countervailing duties ("AD/CVD") orders on Wooden Cabinets, Vanities, and Components Thereof from China.
- Combatting evasion of the AD/CVD duties through transshipment.
- Assisting the U.S. Department of Justice in defending the AD/CVD orders on Wooden Cabinets, Vanities, and Components Thereof from China.
- Anti-evasion efforts regarding the transshipment of Chinese cabinets through third countries.
- Administrative Review: The Department of Commerce initiated the first review of the AD/CVD order in June 2021 and will take approximately one year to complete.
- Trade Legislation: Eliminating Global Market Distortions to Protect American Jobs Act and the Strategic Competition Act of 2021.
- Vietnam Section 301 Investigations.

Certification:

- Report of the Annual Laboratory Operators meeting presented to KCMA Standards & Certification Committee.
- Concluded the data collection on the Detergent & Water Resistance test in support of a proposed change to the KCMA A161.1 standard.
- KCMA continued participation throughout 2021 on the ASC 01 standard for Industrial Woodworking Equipment.
- KCMA continued participation throughout 2021 on an Assistive Cabinet Prototype study conducted by Home Innovation Research Labs sponsored by HUD.
- University of Minnesota concluded the Wall Hung Base Cabinet Study and the report presented to the KCMA Standards & Certification Committee.
- ANSI audited the revision of the 2017 KCMA A161.1 standard. All procedures were in compliance.
- KCMA Standards & Certification Committee initiated a review of the KCMA A161.1 Manual of Operations.

- KCMA Standards & Certification Committee completed the draft 2022 KCMA A161.1 standard and it was approved by the canvass.
- The KCMA Standards & Certification Committee initiated review of the comments received with approved votes on the KCMA A161.1 draft standard.
- KCMA to participate on the AWI canvass for the development of their standard for manufactured casework.

We Craft Extraordinary

We have a decades-long history of bringing excellence to the American custom cabinetry industry and the American home. KCMA's distinguished history is even longer!

Since our humble beginnings in a rural Lancaster County, Pennsylvania garage, Conestoga Wood has crafted the finest doors, drawers, and components for kitchen designers, manufacturers, and homeowners. Through the years, we've been an active member and supporter of the Kitchen Cabinet Manufacturers Association...our industry's premier guide, stalwart advocate, and quality standards setter for product excellence.

For the many and varied things you do to support and advance our industry and all touched by it, we stand shoulder-to-shoulder proud with KCMA in our common quest to continually achieve the extraordinary.

Open for your business.

Like many suppliers to the Kitchen & Bath Industry, Rev-A-Shelf is experiencing long delays in our supply chain and problematic labor shortages. We know many of our loyal customers continue to be affected negatively. We sincerely apologize for these circumstances and remain determined to improve service levels in the next few months.

THE SEAL EVERYONE IS LOOKING FOR

ANSI/KCMA A161.1

KCMA'S QUALITY CERTIFICATION SEAL.

Cabinets that have the KCMA/A161.1 Quality Certification Seal have been thoroughly tested to ensure durability and longevity. They have been put through structure tests, door tests, drawer tests and finish tests. That's why This Old House recommends homeowners only purchase cabinets that have the KCMA/A161.1 Quality Certification Seal.

HEALTHY HOME. SWEET HOME.

ALL PRODUCTS IMPACT THE ENVIRONMENT FOR ESP PROGRAM CRITERIA. VISIT KCMA.ORG

Consumers and homeowners today are more concerned than ever about living in healthy home environments. That's why cabinet companies that have earned the KCMA ESP Certification have a distinct advantage in today's marketplace. The KCMA ESP Seal is earned by companies who meet the established requirements in five different categories: air quality and pollution prevention, waste minimization, environmental stewardship, resource sustainability and community engagement. Cabinets displaying the ESP Seal meet today's standards for sustainability, responsibility, green and healthy home requirements.

To learn more about the KCMA ESP Program visit www.kcma.org.

MEMBERS WITH ESP CERTIFICATION

Members of the Environmental Stewardship Program are taking real, actionable steps to help the environment. Companies that earn the ESP Seal are judged on compliance in five areas: air quality and pollution prevention, waste minimization, environmental stewardship, resource sustainability and community engagement. Consumers these days demand responsible, sustainable products, which is why they love to see this seal.

At Configura, we supply omnichannel software solutions so kitchen designs can be shared seamlessly between the customer and the sales rep all through the buying journey. We work with leading kitchen manufacturers to help them streamline their sales processes and enable their customers to design, specify and order their new dream kitchen.

With our flagship software CET, you get an intuitive and easy-to-learn interface. Just click, snap and stretch to easily create stunning kitchen designs in 2D and 3D with symbols that look and behave like actual products. Specify products from multiple manufacturers with ease and create stunning presentations with renderings, 360 panoramas, videos and VR - all in the same program. During the design process, CET automatically tracks and specifies everything in the background to provide a specification and product list and give the user an immediate idea of the cost of the projects.

That's the casual comfort of Alder.

Warm, friendly and welcoming, Alder's rustic elegance is a favorite among fans of the less formal. Its light brown and reddish undertones stain smoothly and while the wood has a rustic reputation, if you go less knotty it does contemporary with ease. Trust the on-grade quality of Northwest Hardwoods, America's largest and only coast-to-coast hardwood lumber producer.

A young child with blonde hair, wearing a green and white striped long-sleeved shirt and blue jeans, is hanging from a kitchen cabinet handle. The child is barefoot and looking towards the camera. The kitchen features dark wood cabinets and a stainless steel dishwasher. In the background, there is a countertop with various kitchen items like a colander and a knife block.
